

Winter Coaching Promotions

The Winter is a notoriously quiet time for golf professionals, a time when it's highly likely that we'll spend far too much time drinking too much hot chocolate and eating too many chips. As a way of encouraging you fair weather golfers to help me avoid pilling on the pounds and help you get your game in shape for next season, I've put together a few coaching packages to take advantage of over the colder months.

Some of these could make excellent Christmas presents for friends and family.
I can email a personalised voucher for any lessons or coaching packages you may require.

All packages are suitable for any standard of player including complete beginners.

Adult Coaching Packages

Booking a series of lessons is a great way to make real progress with your golf.
After spending the first session looking in depth at the area of the game that you would like to focus on, we will spend the remaining sessions building up technical proficiency and confidence in that area of your game until you are ready to take it on the course.

All adult Packages utilise our V1 Golf video analysis and Golf Explanar Wheel, short game area and golf course.
